

MATC Project (3): Create an “app” design.

Project: This is my self-created “Slim Down Application.” I’ve done some research on food & fitness apps and I like certain elements of various. In this project I am combining some of their features and creating a new app. In this document you will find my flowchart, wireframes, and some app page designs.

I studied the elements and features to use, walk-through scenarios within the app, accepted functionality recommendations from my personal studies and from my class, and studied the product and service I intended to provide.
